Really useful bargains

Travelling light

I have just discovered a really useful, efficient and cheap delivery service operating in London.

To use Ecourier you do not have to have an account; just call up or log on to its website and, for only £6.95, plus VAT, per journey in the central London zone, you can have the equivalent of a personal errand service delivering shopping or picking up lost keys.

And for £9.95, plus VAT, you can have a transit van, which makes furniture shopping or small moves very cost effective.

Call 0870 085 3333, or log on to www.ecourier.co.uk.
